If the Mail app that comes with your Mac doesn't provide the features you need, you're in luck.. You can also write or respond to emails with rich text formatting So, if you want to change the font, add bold lettering, bullet point a section, or just slap an emoji in there, it's all available right from the toolbar at the top of your new email.. There are dozens of great email apps in the Mac App Store I've tested many of them and these are my favorites.
